Beginnings

Dear Friends,

I hope you are all doing well.

Winter is indeed here, with its cold and snow and ice! We have passed the Winter Solstice and the days are growing longer. Though we might not notice it yet, by the end of January, we will!

Our monthly worship theme is BEGINNINGS. A new year is a time for new beginnings of many types. We might make some resolutions – or not! – about behaviors and habits in our lives. As the Board and I work to refine the goals for our shared Developmental ministry, we are anticipating new beginnings for this congregation. It is our shared hope that moving forward with Developmental ministry will bring about a culture change for this congregation that will move it to being ‘unstuck’ and to becoming vital, meaningful and powerful in the lives of our members and in the wider community.

This month will also mark the beginning of a new presidential administration for this country. As I and my colleagues have said since the election – there is much about which to be concerned. Activities and events since the election have only underscored those concerns, not reduced them. We are truly entering a time, as our UUA President the Reverend Peter Morales has said, of sanctuary and resistance. We must continue and become even more a sanctuary of hope, compassion and action for our members. We might also consider if we can become an actual physical sanctuary for those who may be in danger in the coming year – and who certainly are being threatened. To become an actual sanctuary is not a light or easy decision to make.

We must also stay active in resistance, being prepared to step forward into the public square in ways that we have not in the past. The worst thing we can do is assume that everything is going to be okay, when it definitely is NOT, or to normalize the behavior we are seeing from the president-elect.

Our services this month will address this theme of Beginnings in several ways. On January 1, we will hear about New Year’s resolutions – are they what we need? Or is it more about being ‘resolute,’ a different thing altogether?

FROM THE MINISTER

There will be a Lay led service on January 8. On January 15, in observance of Martin Luther King Day, I will speak to the Black Lives Matter Movement – a movement still in the beginning of its time and one that we as Unitarian Universalists are just beginning to join. It is critical that we understand what BLM is about, as there are many misunderstandings out there. On January 22, the YRUU Program will hold their service. Please come to this service to support our Youth in what they have to say to us! On January 29th, we will observe the Chinese New Year – which is all about prosperity, good fortune and MONSTERS. Oh, yes! Come prepared to make some holy noise!

I will be on leave from Sunday afternoon, January 1, through Sunday, January 8. I look forward to returning to co-create a variety of BEGINNINGS with you in the new year!

Love and blessings,

Cyndi

For all of us, a “Prayer for the Holiday Season” as written by Aaron Payson.

Oh Beloved,

Can it be that another year has passed? Wasn't it just yesterday when we heard such familiar music, when these well-worn stories awakened us from our post-harvest slumber? Wasn't it only weeks ago when we last reminisced about seasons past, when life seemed easier, when this season was so full of snowy wonder and glorious wants? Didn't we converse then about how much there was still to do and how short the daylight hours had become? Wasn't it we who sat together then and sipped warm cider, or was it hot chocolate, and laughed as we shared again the memories of youth that gleam once again from our eyes? Or was it coffee and ruminations about a world gone mad? And hadn't we just made the promise that a year hence we'd be farther along than we were and far more accomplished in the doing; those perpetually illusive resolutions that prove us kin in effort and siblings in spirit?

Oh Beloved, can it be that we are here again?

How incredible! How miraculous! How excellent! So let us then give thanks for this heart-felt return! You who have been so much a part of each other's lives, whose presence means fullness of joy and love, you who are such a gift! Hazzah! Let old stories be shared again with new insight and new adventures add spice to the routines of our existence. Let life's milestones mark for us the forward path to possibilities yet imagined and our trials and tribulations give us deeper appreciation for blessings bestowed.

The world with its deep challenges is needful of this, of communities of memory and hope, of a people of courage, with love deep enough to speak truth to power, with humility rich enough to make us mindful of the privileges we have not earned, and with a conscience broad enough to demand those rights that ought to be accorded all people. Let the light we kindle spark the awakening that is ours to embody. For the truth we seek is the life we lead, and the love we share is essence of that peace for which we yearn.

Amen and Blessed Be

We look forward to continuing our journey together in 2017! Thank you!

FROM THE DIRECTOR OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Ah, the month of new beginnings and fresh starts.

Earlier last month, I participated in a conference call with other DREs. We commiserated about the challenges our congregations have been facing lately. Many of us have seen an influx of visitors who are seeking a place that lifts them up and supports their many diverse identities. We talked about creating multigenerational classrooms, finding ways to have interesting classes for adults and children.

As a UU, we know that learning never stops. That's why for the next few weeks we are trying a different way to RE: the multigenerational Miracles Curriculum. This curriculum is for EVERYONE, not just our younger members. With hands-on activities and stories from our UU sources, you will discover your own agency for miracle-making. Join us on Sundays at 10 a.m. in the garden level meeting space to discover, experience and express awe and wonder! Led by me with another facilitator (youth or adult). This truly is a class for ALL AGES! The eight sessions will be: February 5, 12, 19, March 5, 12, 19, 26 and April 2.

Participants make a uniquely UU inquiry—a religious search which simultaneously embraces the awesome truth of a miracle's mystery and the “how and why” of rational explanation. Participants explore different kinds of miracles, from the awesome, ordered beauty of Earth and all life on it, to their own capacity to transform themselves and others to bring forth love and justice.

We are also looking for one youth or adult each Sunday to assist with the lesson. If you're interested, there is a paper sign up available on the Miracles bulletin board in the Meeting Space. Or check out the latest RE e-news for the online version. I will be managing the session, but I will need an extra set of hands.

The Religious Growth and Learning Council will be meeting on January 11th at 6:30 p.m. at Delice on Farnam. If you are interested in helping us craft upcoming classes for all ages, please feel free to join us! We would love anyone passionate about helping anyone, regardless of age, feel free about questioning, learning and exploring!

Many blessings to you in the new year!

Molly Kliment-Jenkins

It's Budget Time Again!

Go to our website and look for the link under Financial. Questions? Please contact Vicki Pratt, Treasurer. ## Winter Weather Warning

Snow & Ice: Winter weather has finally arrived! Although we have a contractor who plows the church driveways, parking lot and some of the walks, we rely on volunteers to help clear snow off the walks, steps, and porches. Snow shovels, sand, and deicer are located in the entryway under the coat rack. Please feel free to use these items as necessary when ice and snow make walking the church grounds dangerous.

If you see something unsafe inside or outside the church, please refer to the Emergency Contact Information sheets posted on the bulletin boards and Furnace Room doors, or notify Buildings & Grounds as soon as possible: Call or email Clyde at 402-932-7225 ClydeLAnderson@cox.net or Tom at 402-490-9089 rundquistt@rocketmail.com.

Save the Date for Social Justice

Mark your calendar! Social Justice Committee is holding a planning/strategy retreat with Rev. Cyndi on February 4th from 9 a.m. - noon. All members and friends are invited and a reservation link will be available soon.

BEGINNINGS

January 1: *Resolute

On this New Year's Day, we will consider the usefulness – or not – of making resolutions for the New Year. Perhaps it's not about making resolutions, but about being resolute. What does that mean and how can we do it?

January 8 – *Book Communion

January 15: *Black Lives Matter

The best way to celebrate Martin Luther King Sunday is to prepare to continue his work of liberation. Our Unitarian Universalist faith has committed to the Black Lives Matter (BLM) movement. In our dedication to a world of racial justice, we cannot afford to misunderstand BLM. In these perilous times, we cannot afford to have doubts about any movement with which we must be solidly allied.

January 22 – *Youth Led Service

January 29: *Chinese New Year

The New Year Spring Festival (Chinese New Year) is the most important national festival in China. Perhaps you are familiar with the fireworks, food, good fortune and/or prosperity aspect of the celebration. But there is a much older story behind this holiday, a story of MONSTERS! And noise! Together we will learn what the Chinese New Year Story has to teach us about community.
